our hotel

The Hampton Inn® hotel in Allentown is especially convenient to many of the businesses that made our Pennsylvania city famous. Yet when you feel like relaxing, our town offers a wide range of activities to enjoy, from family-oriented theme parks to outdoor fun on Beltzville Lake. Our hotel in Allentown is also fortunate to be in a city that supports the arts - Allentown's cultural scene seems to have something brewing almost every weekend.

directions to our hotel

Hamilton Street to Route I-78 West to Exit 49 A, Route 100 South, left at 2nd light onto Penn Drive then take 2nd left at Keebler Way to hotel.

where to go and what to do

Founded in 1762 by William Allen, our city quickly became one of the United States' largest manufacturing centers. Today, the area around our hotel in Allentown still boasts a substantial business base but has also developed a robust leisure side as well. The Allentown Art Museum, Haines Mill Museum and Civic Theater of Allentown fill the city with performances year-round. One very special group, The Allentown Band, is the oldest civilian concert band in the country. They're also well-known for hiding the Liberty Bell from the British from 1777 to 1778. For racing fans, just 15 miles away from our hotel in Allentown, guests can attend "the world's fastest mile" at the Nazareth Speedway.
