where to go and what to do

When you stroll past the turn-of-the-century buildings in downtown Bordentown, you'll know you're in a special place. Our city center, with all its quaint shops and intimate restaurants, sits just a short walk from our hotel. In Bordentown, we have a history that dates all the way back to 1682. Our city overlooking the Delaware River was the home of Thomas Paine, who wrote, "I had rather see my horse Button in his own stable or eating the grass of Bordentown...than see all the pomp and show of Europe." We still have that affect on people. Children will adore our area, if for no other reason than Six Flags Great Adventure, whose enormous roller coasters and rides will amaze you.
