where to go and what to do

The Quakers built many of the buildings that remain to this day on our historic South Main Street and serve as shops and quaint restaurants. A walking guide to our charming downtown is available from the Springboro Chamber of Commerce. For a mouth-watering afternoon diversion, stop by Friesinger's Fine Chocolates & Confections. Friesinger's hand-dipped masterpieces are still made the old-fashioned way. For a more active afternoon, play 18 holes at the Heatherwoode Golf Club or visit the museum at Wright Brothers Airport. You'll find a replica of the world's first mass-produced airplane, the Wright "B" Flyer-an amazing bit of history that's even available for flights.
