where to go and what to do

It's often said that Napoleon Bonaparte's young brother started the tradition of honeymooning in Niagara Falls when he took his American bride there in 1804. Today, visitors can experience the majesty of Niagara in hundreds of different ways near the Hampton Inn® hotel in Niagara Falls. One favorite is the Niagara Falls Observation Tower, which extends out over the Niagara Gorge. Another is the Skylon Tower on Robinson Street-from the revolving dining room atop the 520-foot structure, diners can see over 80 miles (on a clear day). A trip to the New York State Park is a must for any garden lover-much of the grounds were designed by noted landscape architect Frederick Law Olmstead.
