where to go and what to do

The area around our hotel in Harrisburg has long harbored visitors. Some estimate the area has been inhabited for the last 8,000 years. Regardless of how long you're planning on staying in Pennsylvania's capital, you'll find plenty to keep you and your family entertained. Start at Harrisburg City Island, 63 acres of park featuring the Harrisburg River Boat, the City Island Railroad, a carousel, three marinas, a miniature golf course and the Riverside Stadium. Fans of architecture should venture to Governor's Row, an exquisite row of Front Street townhouses built in the early 1800s. Market Square is the hub of the city—you'll love the gorgeous architecture and Victorian clock.
