our hotel

The Ohio River's winding flow sparked the growth of Cincinnati, making it an important hub city. The river remains the center of town today, physically separating Cincinnati from Covington, yet uniting the two cities in activities, culture and spirit. And our Hampton Inn® hotel in Cincinnati-Riverfront (Downtown Area) is right on that river.

directions to our hotel

If traveling Northbound on I-71/75: Take exit 192 (5th Street) and follow the ramp to the right. At the first traffic light make a left onto Philadelphia. At the second traffic light make a left onto Crescent Avenue. The Hampton Inn will be down on the right hand side on the Corner of Crescent Avenue and 3rd Street. If traveling Southbound of I-71/75: Take exit 192 (5th Street) and follow the ramp to the right (signs will say Ludlow).

where to go and what to do

Covington and Cincinnati have a deep German heritage, and you can still find that legacy in both towns today. Just a half-mile from our hotel in Covington, visit the Main Strasse Village; a historic street full of charming shops, a bell tower and statues. Likewise, Cincinnati's Over-the-Rhine district has the largest collection of 19th-century civic, religious and residential architecture in the country. Love sports? The Great American Ballpark sits right on the riverfront. Football fans won't want to miss the Paul Brown Stadium, also on the waterfront near our hotel in Covington. Lastly, to really understand both Cincinnati and Covington, take a riverboat excursion down the Ohio.
