our hotel

The Hampton Inn® hotel in Edenton is just minutes away from the Historic downtown area of "The South's Prettiest Town." Our hotel is conveniently located off of Highway 17 bypass at Exit 227. If you love history, you'll love our tree-lined streets, graced with historic homes and buildings. Don't miss the Barker House, Cupola House and the Chowan County Courthouse, it's all just minutes from the Hampton Inn hotel in Edenton. Thriving shops and restaurants dot the town, creating a warm and romantic place to spend a weekend-or week. Stroll along the Edenton Bay waterfront, take in the walking tour of the Edenton Historic District or just enjoy the moment in our famous small town of Edenton, North Carolina.

directions to our hotel

From Hwy. 17 - Take Exit 227 then turn on Hwy 32 North for a Quarter of a mile. Make a right onto Hampton Drive.

where to go and what to do

Edenton's history dates back to the 1500s, when the Albemarle Sound was first explored by the British. By the mid-1700s, our charming village on the Sound had been designated as the capital of the state. Today, you can still see many buildings that have survived since Colonial times near our hotel in Edenton. In fact, there are more than 25 homes and buildings listed as North Carolina State Historic Sites. Many of these serve as active shops, restaurants, and businesses you'll enjoy exploring. While you're in town, don't miss the Chowan County Courthouse, built in 1767. It is considered one of the finest examples of Georgian architecture in the area. Pop by St.
