where to go and what to do

The name Waterbury was chosen for our town due to the many streams and creeks in our area that flow into the Naugatuck. Today, tourists and industry flow into the city. Check into the Hampton Inn® hotel in Waterbury-I-84, and you'll be in a city with a budding research community, strong manufacturing base and long history of beautiful architecture. Speaking of cool buildings, don't miss City Hall. You might wonder about the inscription above the front door, "Quid Aere Perennius." It means "What Is More Lasting Than Brass" and reflects our long history as a city of brass manufacturing. Explore that history at the Mattatuck Museum.
