our hotel

Fargo is North Dakota's largest city, full of friendly folks, tons of great museums and some terrific shopping. Our hotel in Fargo does not have an elevator; however, it is close to everything, from the Red River Zoo, to Fargo's sister city of Moorhead, Minnesota. There you'll find the famous Heritage Hjemkomst Interpretive Center, which has replicas of a Viking ship and a Norwegian Stave church. Back in Fargo, Bonanzaville USA gives visitors today a taste of true pioneer life.

where to go and what to do

Just a short drive from our Fargo hotel you'll find many interesting things to do. At Bonanzaville USA you'll find fifteen acres of historic buildings, ranging from a sod house to a church, courthouse and country store. Specialty museums house antique cars, airplanes, farm equipment and other local memorabilia. In nearby Moorhead, there's the Bergquist cabin. Built in 1870 by Swedish immigrant John Bergquist, it is the oldest house in Moorhead still on its original site. The cabin is open each year during the Scandinavian Hjemkomst Festival in June, and by appointment. There's also the popular Fargo Air Museum, Red River Zoo and the historic Fargo Theater.
