where to go and what to do

The area around our hotel in Williamston dates back to the early 18th century. To explore some of that venerable history, check out spots such as the Asa Biggs House (circa 1831), the Old Martin County Courthouse (circa 1850) and the Doctor W. Bagley Office (circa 1853). A self-guided walking tour is available from the Asa Biggs House. For a little more recent history, but no less delicious, you'll find Clark's Pharmacy on Main Street. The pharmacy still features cherry Cokes, lemonades and fresh cups of coffee in the old-fashioned tradition of a true soda fountain. For a Western-style theme park, head to Deadwood, just eight miles from our hotel in Williamston.
